BASEBALL AND EUROPEAN WARS PLACE HANDICAP PASTIME

Federal League Squabble Two Years Ago, When Many Players Left Fold of Organized Ball to Be Outlaws, and Present European Strife, Causes Fans to Lose Interest in National Game.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—War has placed a heavy load on the shoulders of organized baseball—a load that will not be lifted for years to come.

First came the baseball war, resultant from the advent of the Federal League.

For two years the very foundation of the national pastime was shaken in the throes of baseball strife and it finally won out, though with victory came heavy financial obligations that will keep the big league magnates digging for the next several years.

Now comes the world war to interfere with the smooth sailing of the baseball craft, and no man can say to what extent baseball will be taxed before peace comes again. The club owners have held cash tied up in many players who will be taken from the draft and the player who exchanges his baseball uniform for the uniform of the United States army or navy may never appear in the diamond again, for there is no telling how long he will be needed by Uncle Sam.

Conditions next spring will determine the policy of the big leagues for 1915. Plans are being made to go ahead with the coming season unless unforeseen happenings make it imperative that baseball will be discontinued, and the future of the game is filled with uncertainties.

At the recent meeting of the National Commission and former members of the Federal league in New York, the speakers of
